

Livelihood Sovereignty: A Rights-Based Approach to Socio-Political and Ecological Capital Enrichment via the SPERI Pathway

MECO-ECOTRA – YIELDS - CENDI
1995 – 2005 – 2015 - 2025

BIOLOGICAL HUMAN ECOLOGY

1990s – 2000s- 2010s-2030s

03 Core challenges & 03 key Approaches

Social Policy & Ecology Research Institute (SPERI) was established on June 5th, 2006. It focuses on enriching social, political, and ecological capital within the highland ecosystem, where land, forests, and water are revitalized by IPs' wisdom, customs, and knowledge. This is achieved through SPERI's Livelihood Sovereignty Based Approach and an Integrated 6 – Thematic Action Network of the MECO-ECOTRA in association with YIELDS-AGREEE via HEPA Eco-Farming School in Mekong

IP Livelihood Sovereignty

5 Core Characteristics of Ecosystem

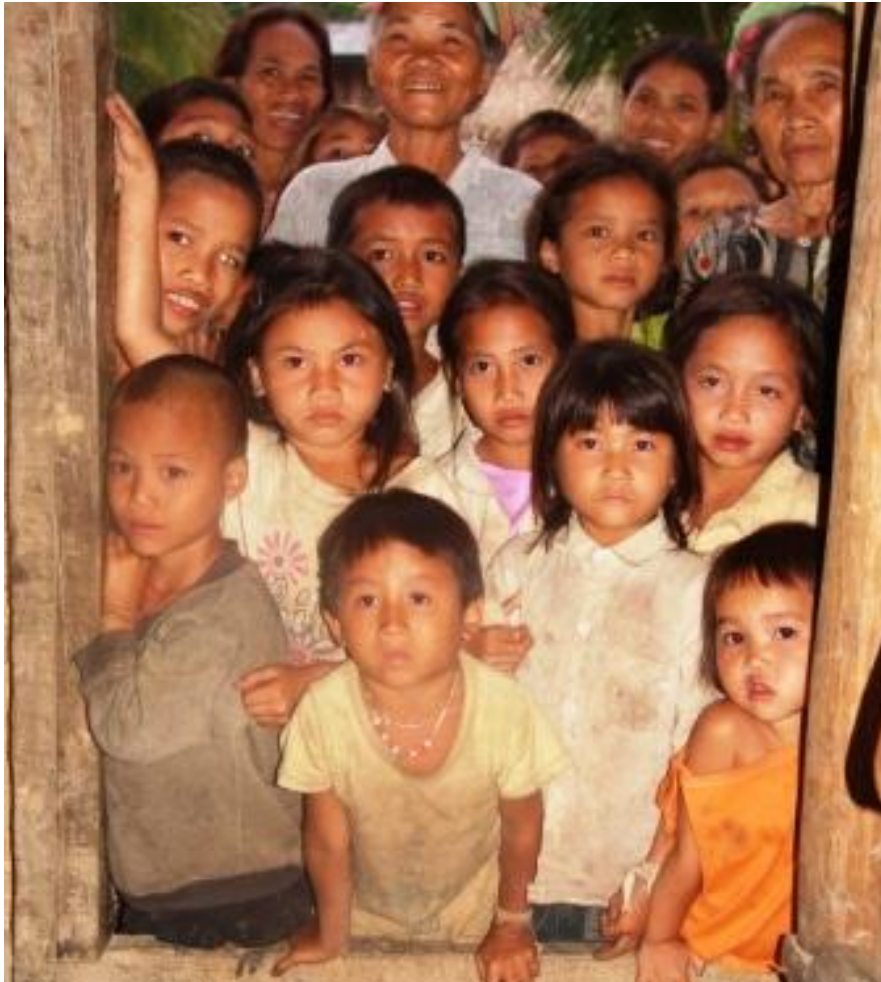

- Diverse – Unique – Inter – Adapt – Resilient

5 Fundamental Rights of Human Living

- Legitimacy living in Ecosystem.
- Nurturing Ecosystem
- Enriching Local Native Species;
- Practicing Local Wisdom & Experiences
- Co-Governing with Neighboring

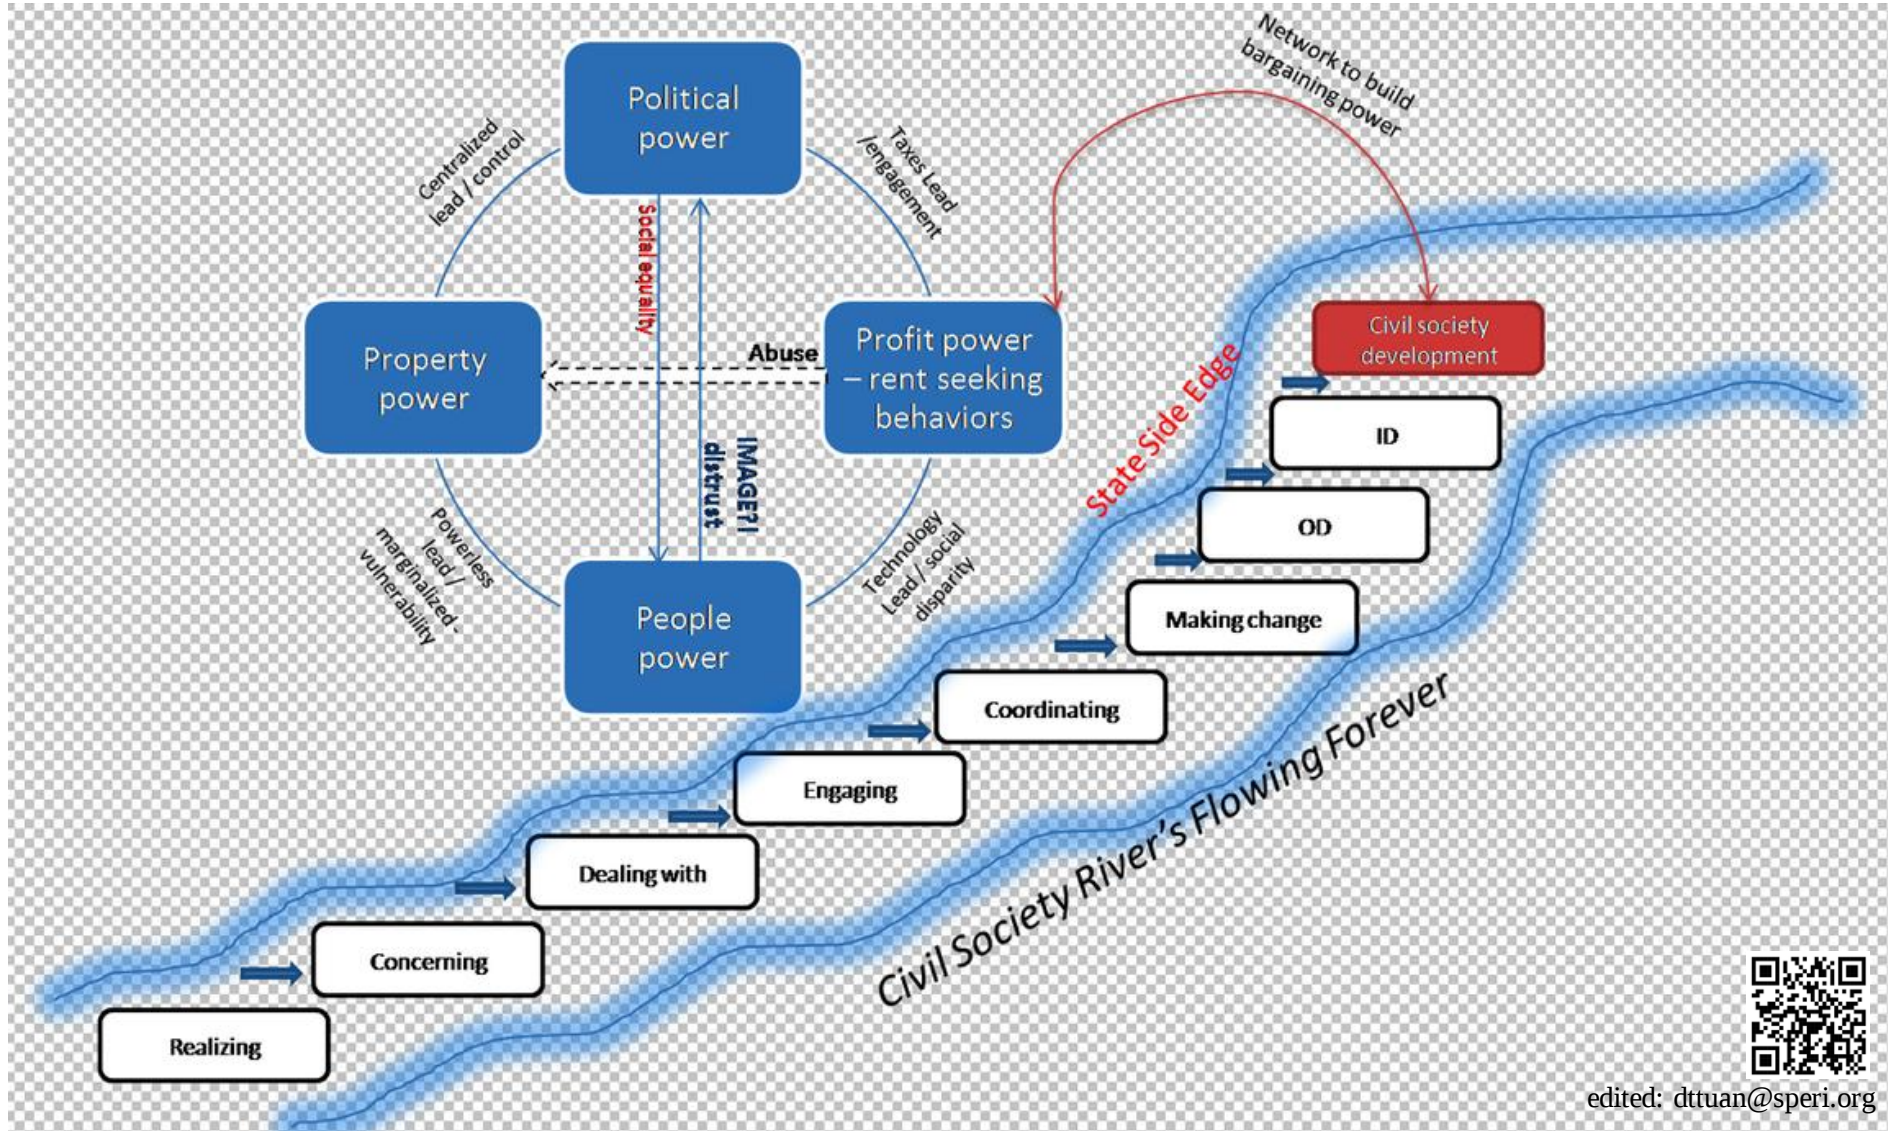

IP Participatory Action Research

Step	Role % of IP	Role % of SPERI
Step 1	90	10
2	70	30
3	50	50
4	30	70
5	10	90
6	Listening	Presenting
7	feedback	Adjustment
8	CBO & CBI	Negotiation
9	Plat-Form	Integrated OD & ID

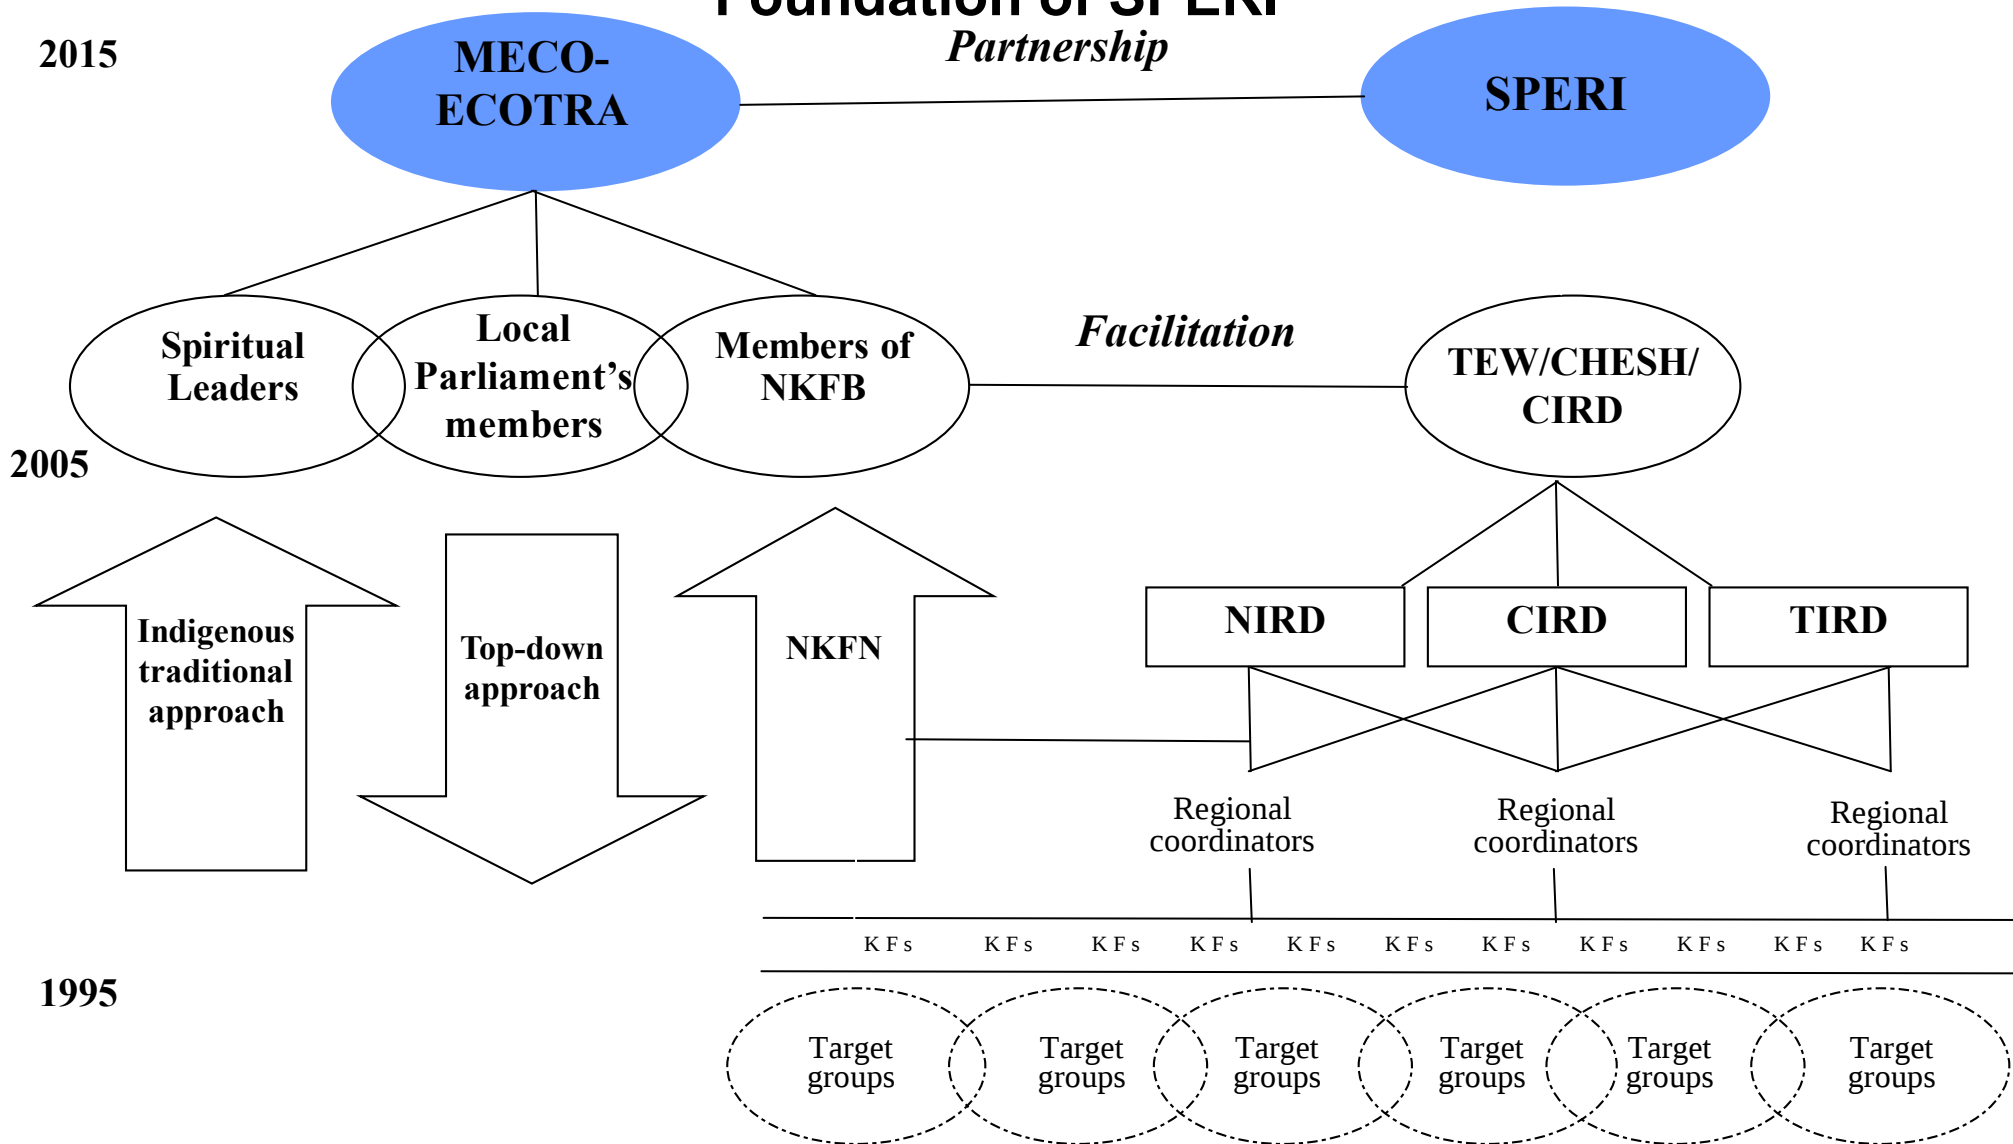

Visionary Planning Based on LISO

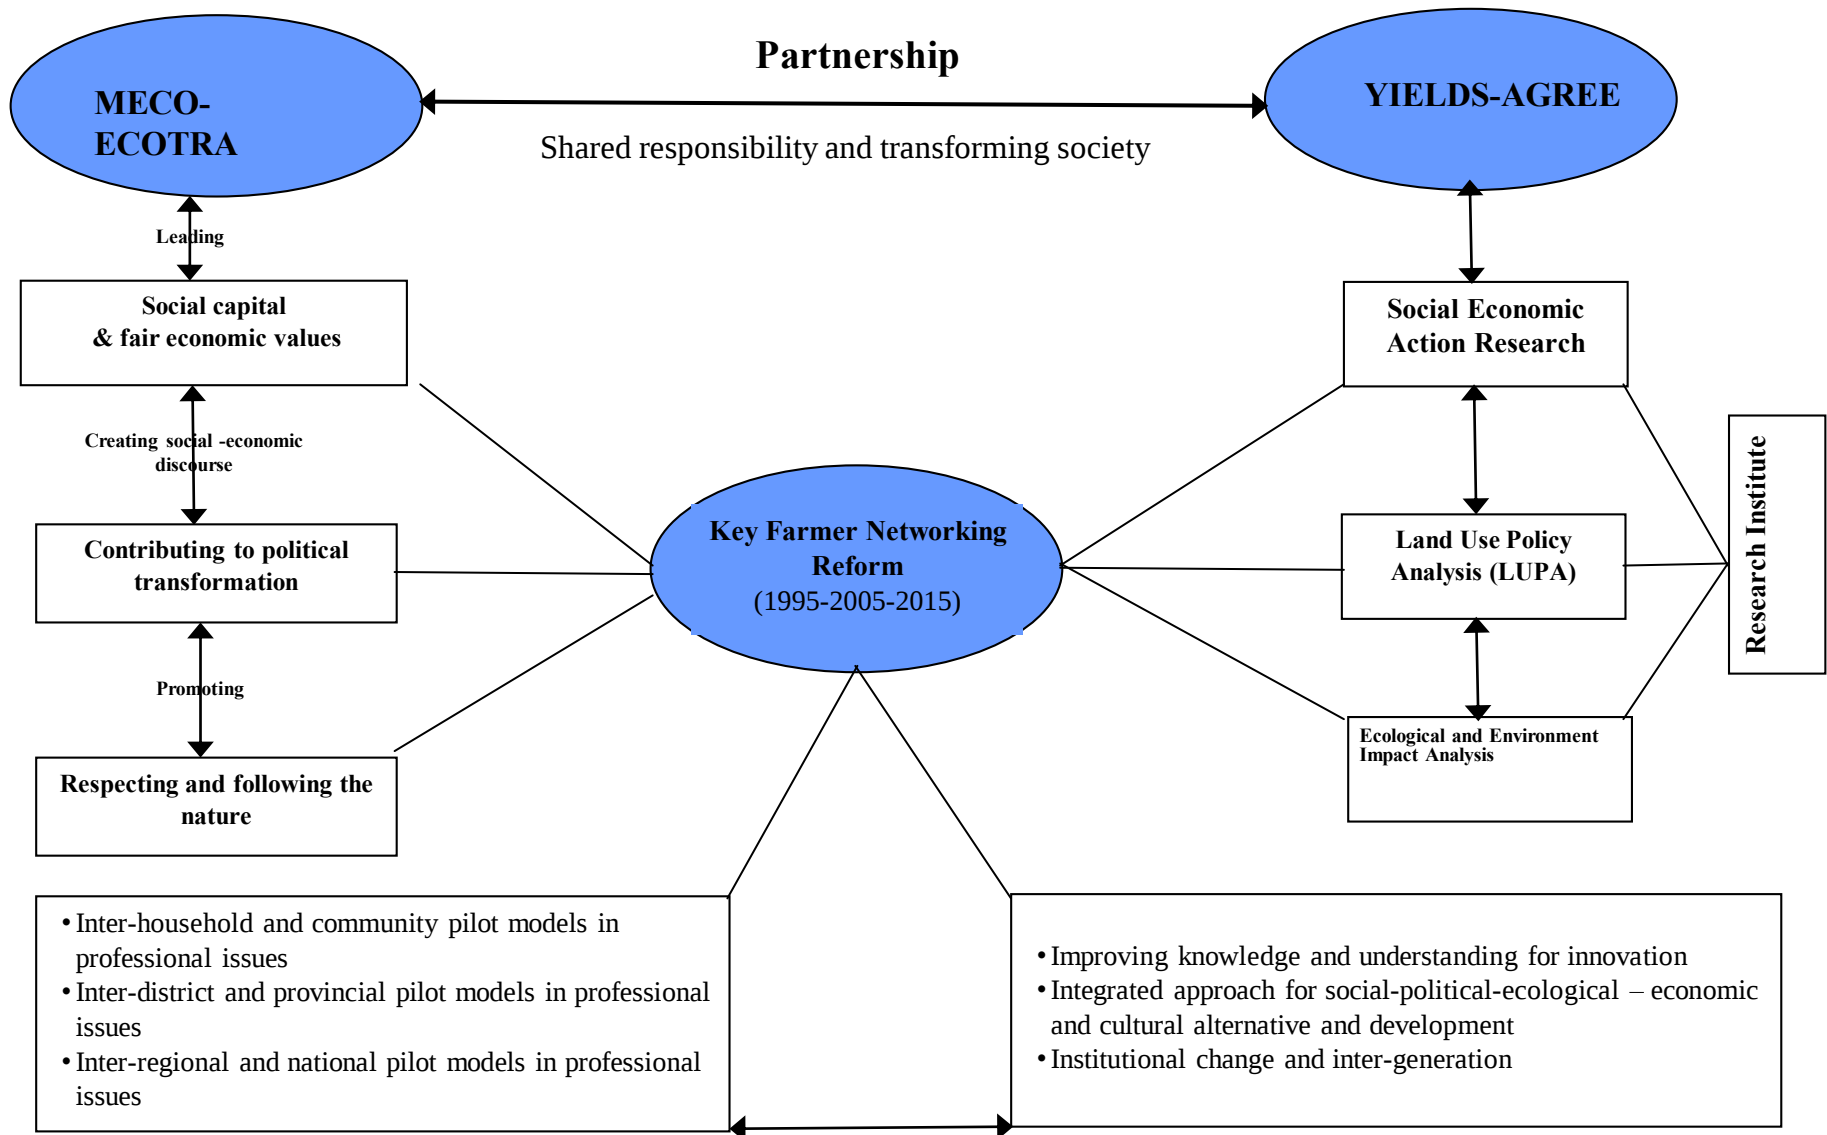

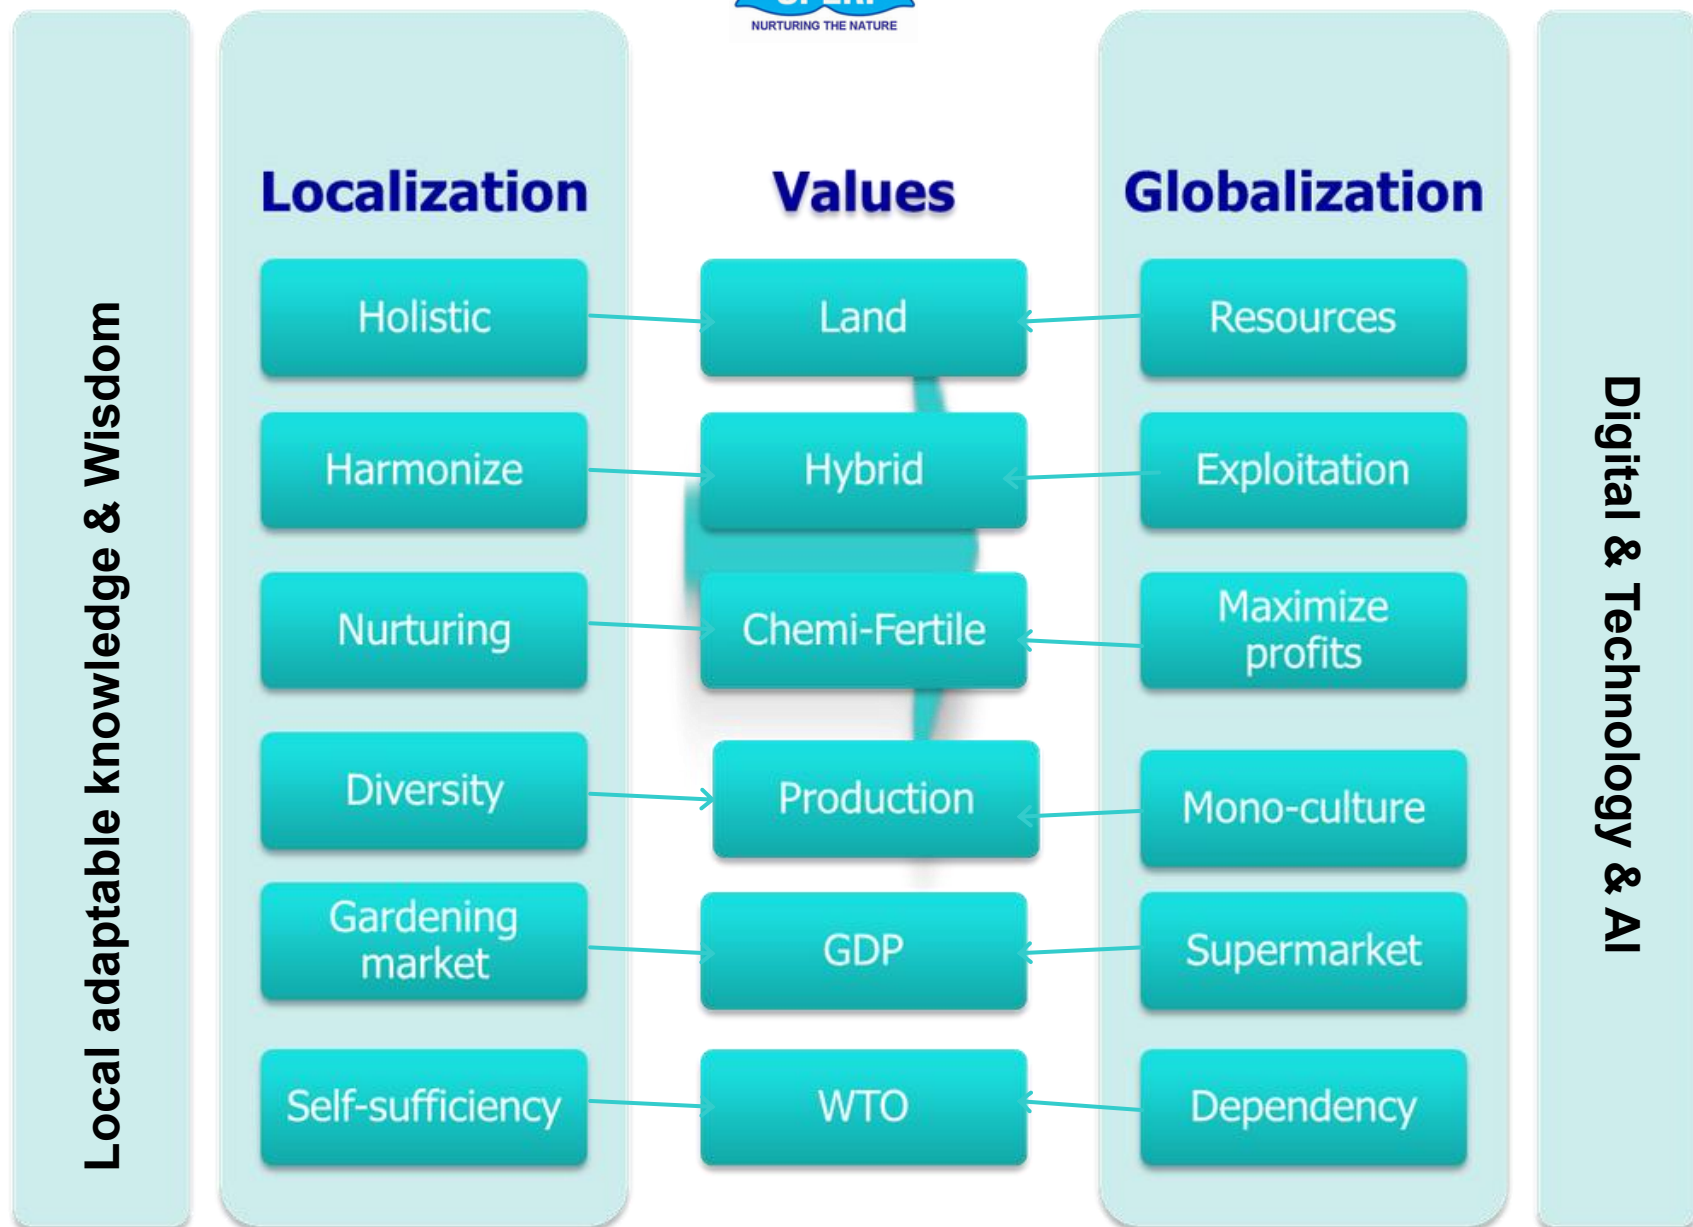

Foundation of SPERI

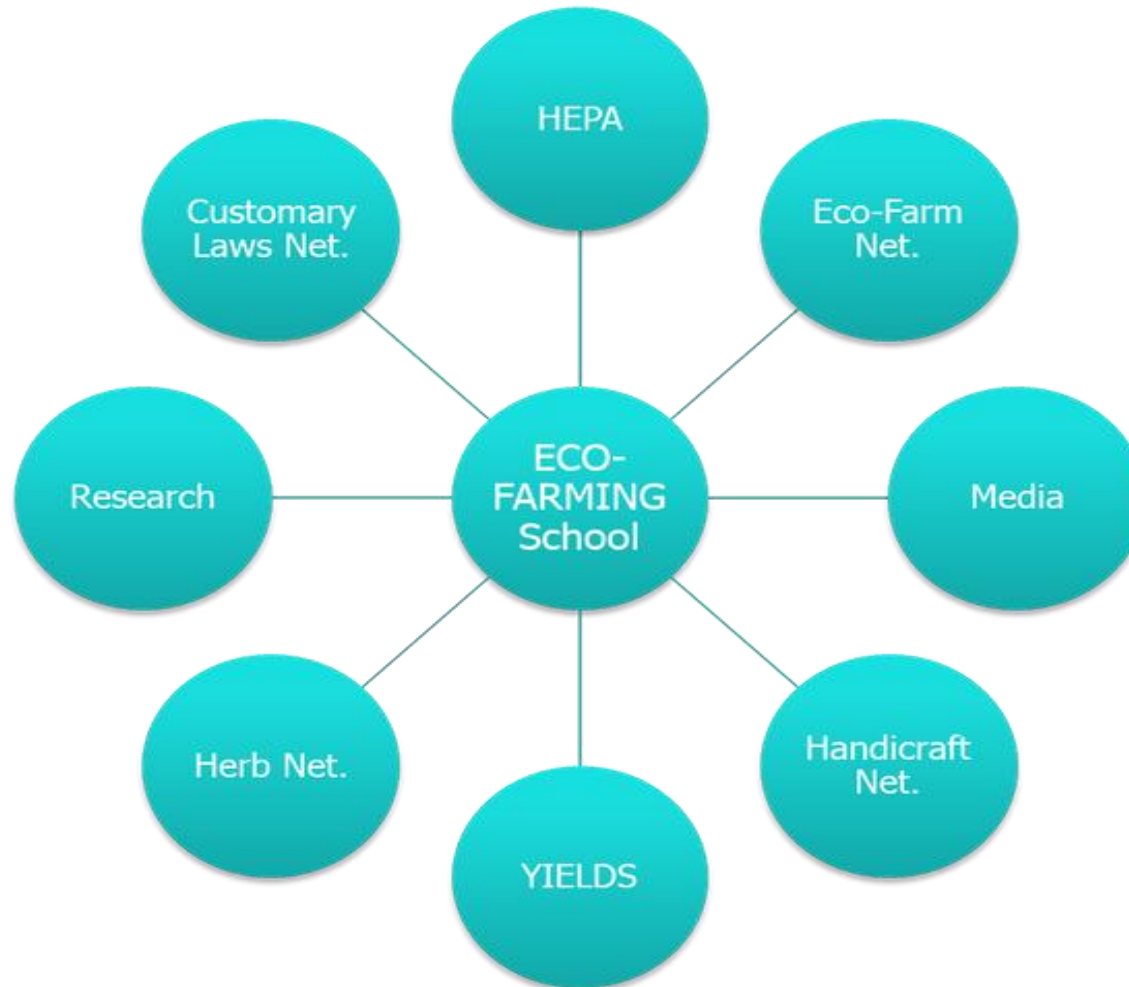

Partnership

Family – Community – Regional and Inter- National Eco- Farming School

MECO-ECOTRA (1995 - 2025): 6000 members (First generation). Scan for details:

YIELDS-AGREE (2015-onwards): 327 members (Second generation). Scan for details:

HEPA-ECO FARMING SCHOOL (2005 onwards): Scan for details

 Target Groups

 MECO-ECOTRA
YIELDS-AGREE

THEORY OF CHANGE

1. Community Land Rights Title (2000-2003): 270 communities, managing 139,820 ha of forest and land (Vietnam, Laos) / 270 Community's Customary Laws

2. Community Entrepreneurs led 9 Community Agro-Ecological Enterprises:

3. Community Entrepreneurial Development Institute (CENDI): Officially registered and operating in partnership with the MECO-ECOTRA and YIELDS-AGREE networks

4. Land Law No.13/2003/QH11, Article 48, Clause 3
5. Forest Law No.16/QH14/2017, Scan here for details

6. Tran Thi Lanh, 2024. Carbon Stock in Above-ground Biomass

7. Tran Thi Lanh, 2022. Building Livelihood Sovereignty for the Mekong Region

8. Tran Thi Lanh, 2018. Livelihood Sovereignty and Village Wellbeing:
https://waikato.primo.exlibrisgroup.com/discovery/delivery/64WAIKATO_INST:64WAIKATO/12_246476670003401

9. Tran Thi Lanh. 2017. From Community Forest Land Rights to Livelihood Sovereignty and Wellbeing.

10. Tran thi Lanh, 2015 . Nurturing Customary Based Wellbeing – An Approach to Biological Human Ecology Theory.

11. Tran thi Lanh, 2013. Land and forests float on a river of policy.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR ATTENTION

www.speri.org / ttlanh@speri.org

MECO-ECOTRA – YIELDS - CENDI
1995 – 2005 – 2015 - 2025